MUCH MARRIED

WAS THE REV. CHAS. A. LYONS. WILL GET TO WORK FOUR YEARS NOW.

SIoux FALLS, May 14.—Four years imprisonment at hard labor in the penitentiary is the punishment meted out by Judge Jones, of the State Circuit Court to Rev. Chas. A. Lyons, who pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy preferred by a Sioux Falls young woman. It was ascertained that Lyons had wives at Montreal, Cincinnati, Ohio, Providence, R. I., in Texas and in Colorado.

The authorities believe he has as many as twenty or twenty-five in different parts of the country.

Bronze Bust of Senator Hanna. CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 16.—Augustus St. Gardens has accepted a commission to make a bronze bust of the late Senator Hanna, which will be placed in the hall of the New Municipal group of buildings to be erected. A number of distinguished Cleveland citizens have subscribed the necessary funds.

MORE GOLD

TO GO OUT NEXT TUESDAY—LATE SATURDAY EVENING THE DISPATCH BELOW CAME, SHOWING FINANCIAL CONDITIONS.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The most notable development in to-day's financial markets was the announcement of another extremely large gold shipment for next Tuesday's steamer. The amount already taken for the date, $10,500,000, exceeds all precedent for daily shipments, even in this record-breaking season.

The announcement came along with the weekly bank statement, with an attempt at reflection of the past week's movements.

The statement probably made the bank positions look worse than it really is. According to those figures, $10,400,000 cash left the banks this week; whereas the truth is that the $12,000,000 gold shipments which figure in the statement were offset this week by fully $75,000,000 cash received from the Treasury and interior institutions. But such is the habit of our weekly bank statistics. As it stands, the statements show not only this $10,000,000 loss in cash reserves but a $7,500,000 loan expansion; the result of the double movement being $9,500,000 decrease in surplus. It will be noticed that without this decrease the surplus reserve still holds above that of the current date in 1903, or 1902 or 1901.

With these exceptions, however, it is the lowest of any year since 1897. It could not be said that the stock market offered any life to-day or any additional news of gold engagements or to the heavy decline in bank reserves. Nothing more than the idle drifting about of prices unusual on Saturday's was witnessed. The decline after the bank statements publication was trifling, and the closing business was dull.

DOLL BABY WEDDING

Last Monday afternoon was the occasion of a very unique wedding in Kingwood. The very interesting affair took place at the play house of little Benice and Helen Lenhart, the contracting parties being their two dolls. The little Misses had sent out to their young companions the following invitation:

You are cordially invited to attend the wedding of Miss Daisy Myrtle to Mr. William Donald ... May 9, 1904, at 3:30 P.M.

At the appointed hour a large number of little guests appeared each in company with her favorite doll. The play house of the hostesses was elaborately decorated with apple blossoms, sunflowers, daisies, violets and other flowers of the season. Each guest was wearing its best white. The bride and groom dolls never appeared so handsomely as then. Unfortunately the minister doll took suddenly ill and was unable to perform the ceremony, whereupon little Lillian Conley arose to the occasion and with a very pretty ring ceremony united Myrtle and Donald in the happy bonds of doll wedlock. The part of bridesmaid, groomsmen, usher, flower girl and ring bearer by the different dolls selected for the purpose made the ceremony quite complete. It was regarded as the social event of the season among children and dolls.—Preston Leader.

AN OLD IRON FURNACE

Was Formerly Operated Near Everson.

Just a few hundred yards above the town of Everson, is an old pit which marks the former location of the first iron furnace in this part of the country. The furnace was owned and operated by —Erie, the grandfather of Calvin S. Brice, U. S. Senator from Ohio. An old resident of this region remembers when it was a hive of industry and at a good stage of water the iron in big lumps was rafted down the river. Mayor John A. Showalter of Monongah, has a cave which he cut from a hickory tree that grew in the center of the old pit. This cave was cut about ten years ago, and Mr. Showalter says that it has been 75 or 80 years since the plant was in operation.

The Integrity of Manchuria. LONDON, May 14.—Special dispatches to the Times from Berlin say there is excellent authority for the statement that there is a strong possibility of peace in the Far East. The basis of settlement is to be the independence of Korea under the protectorate of Japan and Manchuria to remain Chinese territory. In a secret treaty between China and Japan, the integrity of Manchuria has been guaranteed by Japan.

PECULIAR CHURCH MIX

Courts Are Appealed to Where Jurisdiction Of Bishop Is.

A peculiar tangle in church affairs is revealed by the suit begun in Common Pleas Court No. 3. The suit is an action in ejectment and is begun for the simple reason that it seems to be beyond power of adjustment by the Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Pittsburgh. St. Nicholas Croatian Roman Catholic congregation of Millvale brings the action against St. Nicholas Croatian Roman Catholic congregation of the Eighth ward, Allegheny.

The property in dispute is located on East Ohio street, Allegheny, of which the plaintiffs aver the defendants are illegally in possession. The plaintiffs' declaration sets forth that in 1894 a religious organization was effected in the Eighth ward, Allegheny. It assumed the above title, and property was purchased and improved, the title resting with Rt. Rev. Richard Phelan, in trust.

By 1899 the congregation had grown, necessitating larger buildings, and the question was raised as to whether the congregation should build in Millvale or stay where it was. This question, the declaration avers, was acted upon in October, 1899, the congregation balloting and a majority favoring the relocation in Millvale.

Bishop Phelan consented to the change, and the property was purchased in Millvale and the congregation established there. Since then, the declaration continues, some of the members of the original congregation have retained the property in Allegheny, have erected a new church thereon, are renting the old one and refuse to deliver possession to the plaintiffs. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

PANAMA

CANAL COMMISSION HAS CHOSEN REAR ADMIRAL REMY AS TREASURER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—The position of treasurer of the Panama Canal Commission has been tendered Rear Admiral A. S. Remy, U. S. N. retired, and has been accepted.

It is announced that the admiral will be formally elected at a regular meeting of the board to be held shortly. A decision upon the secretaryship may be made at the same time.

Major LaGrange, a surgeon in the regular army, will be selected to take charge of the hospital at Panama.

Chairman Walker is preparing to send five more engineering parties to the isthmus. There is a great demand for stenographers and typewriters, but they must be able to read French and Spanish.

HEART PROVERBS.

A happy heart is better than a full purse.

What comes from the heart goes to the heart.

He who hath most heart knows most of sorrow.

A cheerful countenance denotes a good heart.

No estate can make him rich that has a poor heart.

The heart's testimony is stronger than a thousand witnesses.

A glad heart seldom sighs, but a sorrowful mouth often laughs.

The heart is the hidden treasure of man; the tongue is the gate to the treasure.

A good heart is the sun and moon; or, rather, the sun, for it shines bright and never changes.

There never was a heart truly great and generous that was not also tender and compassionate.

Guns That Shoot Quickly.

A most striking recent development in guns—and in speaking of guns we usually include the carriage or gun mount—is the effort, now universal, to throw the accurate and quick control of the gun into the hands of the people firing it. It may well be wondered that this has not always been a controlling idea in laying out guns and their mounts, but at the present time it is in this direction that the greatest effort is being made. The proof of this is to be seen by a comparison of the guns and mounts made ten or fifteen years ago with those now being made. The latter are arranged much more conveniently, and consequently their rate of fire is much faster. Modern 6-inch guns are being fired from ships eight or ten times a minute at targets about the size of a ship and a mile distant, and hitting the target at each shot. —Scientific American.

King and Queen Will Visit Kaiser.

BERLIN, May 14.—The Pottsdamer Correspondent, a paper inspired by Palace circles, states that the King and Queen of Italy will visit the Kaiser at Pottsdamer during the summer.

THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.

It Was at First Known as the Cape of All the Storms.

An early navigator, Bartolomeu Diaz, commissioned by King John II. of Portugal to continue the work of African exploration down the west coast, sailed from Lisbon in August, 1486, with a small force and landed at several places, of which he took possession in the name of his master.

As he approached the southern extremity of the continent he was blown out to sea by a tremendous storm and doubled the Cape without knowing it. Land was not again made until the mouth of the Great Fish river was sighted, and the ships came to anchor in Algoa bay. A council held there decided to return home, and on the way back the Cape was discovered and christened by the commander, in remembrance of his first experience, Cabo Tormentoso, or Cabo des Todos les Tormentos; that is, Cape of All the Storms.

When the discovery was reported to the king he immediately saw the immense possibilities of a new road to the Indies and bestowed upon it the happier name of the Cape of Good Hope. By a singular corruption of its first title the Cape was long known to English seamen as the Cape of Storms, and the legend of the "Flying Dutchman" was localized there by a misunderstanding of the experiences of this Portuguese expedition.

SHOOTING STARS.

They Are Simply Falling Masses of Stony or Metallic Matter.

Falling stars are masses of stony or metallic matter which, moving freely through space, approach so near to the earth as to penetrate and traverse the upper regions of our atmosphere. Raised to white heat by friction with the air, owing to their immense velocity, which averages thirty-five miles a second, they become luminous and often leave a trail of light.

Several well defined groups or swarms of these bodies revolve around the sun in elliptic orbits, which are periodically encountered by the earth. Such are the Lyrids (April 19-22), the Leonids (Nov. 14-16) and Andromedids (Nov. 23-24), so called because they seem to radiate from a point within the constellations after which they are respectively named.

It is computed that no fewer than twenty millions of these bodies enter the earth's atmosphere daily, each one of which, under favorable conditions, would be distinctly visible. Occasionally they reach the earth in solid form, but showing signs of recent fusion of an outer layer. They vary in weight from some hundreds of pounds to a single grain. Their principal chemical constituents are iron, magnesium, silicon, oxygen, nickel and cobalt.

LOVE IN LAPLAND.

Things a Suitor Must Do Before He Wins His Bride.

When a lad is in love with a girl in Lapland they run a race—not a fair race, for he is so heavily handicapped that if she wishes the girl can get first to the goal, but if she cares for the young man who is trying to win she lets him overtake her, because if she outruns him he cannot propose again.

But even if he wins the race and the girl at the same time the young lovers cannot be married until they have the consent of the girl's parents. At one time if a man married a girl without this he was liable to receive capital punishment.

Besides an engagement ring, the young Laplander sends his future bride a girdle and a quantity of brandy. He goes as far as the door of her hut, but remains outside until invited to enter, when a bumper of brandy is offered to the girl's father. If he drinks it, it means that he gives his consent to the marriage, and the happy lover then pays the father a sum of money and promises to give the girl some clothes.

Coffee in Wartimes.

In the civil war there were numerous coffee substitutes. The principal was potatoes, which were cut into small cubes and parched. The beverage was declared to be potable. A Texas regiment used corn, parching the grains till they were a blackish brown. It was common to make coffee out of rice and other cereals besides corn. Many of the southern troops made a drink of the tender roots of the sassafras by boiling them in water. Many a gallon of sassafras tea have I drunk, and the effect is gloriously stimulating. A pint of it will enable a fatigued person to labor on indefinitely. The taste is deliciously aromatic. —New York Press.

Passions and the Face.

All real and enduring beauty must come from within. Notice how angry passions, evil emotions, worry, fear, hatred, envy, jealousy, malice, even though they be but momentary feelings, will distort and destroy for the time being the most perfectly fashioned face. If evil thoughts or deeds be persisted in, the transient effects will become lasting. —Success.

Silence and Speech.

The chief office of silence is to bury all that is evil, and the chief office of speech is to disclose and disseminate all that is good. Let this be done with sincerity and earnestness, and let no criticism discourage it, for its ultimate benefit to character and to conduct is established beyond a doubt.

As to Popularity.

"The man who wants to be popular must be a cheerful liar." "I don't see why." "Because no man can gain popularity by telling the people the truth about themselves." —Chicago Post.

He that hath no heart ought to have heels.

CLARA BARTON

HAS RESIGNED AS PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL RED CROSS. SHE WILL BE SUCCEEDED BY MRS. JOHN A. LOGAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—Miss Clara Barton's expected resignation as President of the American National Red Cross will be presented to the executive committee on organization. She will be succeeded by Mrs. John A. Logan, who has been vice-president of the association. In her letter of resignation, Miss Barton says:

"It is now twenty-three years since, by the express desire of President Garfield, on the eve of martyrdom, I accepted the presidency of the organization over which you have the honor to preside, and the duties of which you have the kindness to administer."

"The Red Cross, has by its example, enlarged the scope of the organization charities of the country and has brought us into practical relations with the humanitarian methods of other nations and made possible an interchange of beneficence. It is a time to remind you of the years and the occasions in which your weary president has sought to lay her weary burdens down. Year after year she has framed and offered her resignation to the preceding boards and committees. These have been resolutely met by appointments for life."

"But once more and for all, honored officers and friends, I tender my resignation as president of the American National Red Cross, which resignation, being absolute calls only for acceptance. It is a pride as well as a pleasure, to hand to you an organization perfectly formed, thoroughly officered with no debts and a sum of from $12,000 or $14,000 available to our treasury as a working fund."

A GOOD MAN GONE WRONG

Just as Indiana Democrats were causing a tumult and a shouting over the name of Mayor McClellan, of New York, Governor Odell was laying that Tammany official on the cold political slab by vetoing the Remsen gas bill, one of those grab measures like several which afflicted the closing days of the Pennsylvania Legislature. The exuberant cherished the notion that the mayor might be available for the Presidency, ignoring the dangerous fact of his birth in Dresden, Saxony, and even the sedate thought him eligible for the nomination as governor this fall. His own party press now frankly confess that the die is cast.

The bill violated all the principles of home rule and tended to distrust all the regulations of outlying boroughs as to franchises, for it granted in perpetuity rights to the company to run pipes into New York from Astoria. Its passage was attended by acts of gross lobbying. But what adds to McClellan's humiliation is the story that he was entrapped into signing the bill by the belief that Odell would also attach his signature. In this play for political advantage the mayor was outwitted, for Odell vetoes the measure and reads a lofty lecture to the aspiring young man. As Odell is at once chairman of the Republican State Committee and governor, the seasoning of the policy of grab-killing with a political maneuver is apparent to the naked eye. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

STEAMER BEAUTY

Will leave for Fairmont Park every afternoon at 2 P. M. and every evening at 8 P. M. Round trip, 25c. Music and Dancing Arrangements can be made for Fairmont Park and steamers "Beauty" for excursions and picnics. Address 304 Main street City.

Among the old records of the county is a deed or release bearing date of July 1, 1813, which is out of the usual order. By its terms a negro girl, aged 16 years, is set free from slavery. The deed, which was made by George Ebert, of Uniontown, on the above-named date, sets forth that he is the owner of the girl, whom he purchased in Harrison county, Virginia. By the terms of the purchase he was to hold her a slave during life if he so desired. However, he concluded to set her free from the shackles of slavery and release her from all such obligations, but reserved for himself, his heirs and assigns, a right to her personal services for 11 years from the date of the release. The papers were made out and sworn to before James Lindsey, a justice of the peace, on July 2, 1813. There were quite a number of such deeds on record, nearly all of which were recorded in the early part of the nineteenth century. —Connellsville Courier.
